

I am a trial court judge. My job is to make decisions based on facts and law. Sometimes I am in charge of a trial, where I make sure that both sides follow the rules of court procedures. I sit at the front of a courtroom behind the bench, and I usually wear a black robe.